

Title: "Dismantling kclehman Website, Updated and Re-posted Essays"

May 4, 2026

Greetings all,

I have been dismantling the kclehman.com website over the past two years, and as part of this work I have spent more than a thousand hours updating and reposting more than sixty of the essays that had previously been posted on the kclehman site. These updated essays are now mostly posted in the "Kclehman Website Archives" section of the Resources page of www.immanuelapproach.com, with a handful posted in the "Special Subjects/Advanced Topics" and "Case Studies" sections. I have included a list of some of the titles (below) as an appetizer.

Also, a number of people have asked, "Why don't you send the link directly to the essay, as opposed to sending a link to the page the essay is posted on?" Quick answer: If I make even the slightest change to an essay, I have to post a new pdf for the updated version in place of the old version and this changes the link. So if I send out a link directly to an essay, it will go dead the first time I make an edit.

Blessings,

Dr. Lehman/Karl
